

ナフィールド CSC 会合 2026 における挨拶内容

I'm delighted to see the Contemporary Scholars Conference 2026 take place and very pleased to have this opportunity to speak to you.

Over the next two years, you, as Nuffield Scholars, will travel to many countries. You will learn about advanced agricultural practices, innovative technologies, and initiatives that strengthen rural communities.

And I am confident that you will take what you learn and apply it to your own farm businesses and to the agricultural sectors in your home countries.

The world's population will continue to grow, and our agricultural sector must respond to rising demand by increasing productivity while reducing environmental impacts.

To ensure that Japan becomes the country that can contribute most in this field, we will expand our investment in new areas, including food tech and agri-tech.

Finally, I sincerely hope that the knowledge and experience you gain through this program – especially the time you spend in Japan – will support your growth as leaders who drive agriculture forward in your respective countries and also contribute to the international agricultural community.

Let's join hands to build a better future!

Thank you!
