PART I - GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1 - Title, Theme and Category

1.1. An international horticultural exhibition shall be held in the City of Yokohama, Kanagawa Prefecture, Japan.

The title of this exhibition shall be International Horticultural Expo 2027, Yokohama, Japan (hereinafter referred to as “the Expo”).

The Expo was accredited on 9 September 2019 by the ASSOCIATION INTERNATIONALE DES PRODUCTEURS DE L'HORTICULTURE (hereinafter referred to as "the AIPH") as an A1 international horticultural exhibition and approved by the AIPH.

The Bureau International des Expositions (hereinafter referred to as “the BIE”) has recognised the Expo in accordance with the provisions of the Convention relating to International Exhibitions, signed at Paris on the 22nd of November 1928, as amended (hereinafter referred to as “the Convention”).

1.2. The theme of the Expo will be “Scenery of the Future for Happiness”.

Humanity is part of the ecosystem and benefits from it. However, there is a limit to the capacity of the global environment that supports the continuation of ecosystems. As a result of the human socioeconomic pursuit of affluence, challenges that threaten the survival of humanity are becoming increasingly apparent, such as the loss of biodiversity, ongoing climate change, and the increasing severity and frequency of various natural disasters. As the world population is expected to continue to increase, especially in developing countries, there is a need to improve agricultural productivity to secure food.

Flowers, greenery, and agriculture excite people across different ideologies, generations, and national borders and bring about a sense of happiness. They nurture respect for nature in people’s minds and create value that is harmonious with nature.

In light of global climate change and biodiversity loss, the Expo aims to create a society in which people have a deeper sense of happiness through initiatives including:

- Re-evaluating the wisdom and culture that have been fostered around the world through relations with nature that utilize the diverse functions of the natural environment in daily life, and sharing ideas about how to use them to form a sustainable society.
- Promoting the cultures regarding horticulture worldwide.

- Exploring how to realize a life in which flowers, greenery, and agriculture are close at hand, and which nurtures a rich heart.
- Encouraging the participation of diverse entities.

We believe that the International Horticultural Exposition can play a role in proposing solutions to international issues including global environmental challenges and developing future societies. It will present new perspectives, values, and industrial fields, and help reaffirm the importance of natural spaces. It will emphasize the principle of circularity inherent in flowers, greenery, and agriculture, the value of nurturing plants of all types, how they benefit people at various levels, and the cultural and mental benefits to humankind. It will also ask participants to voice their opinions on the effects of nature on contemporary society, making the expo a participatory demonstration.

The theme embraces the wish of Yokohama, Japan, to create scenery that nurtures the hearts of its inhabitants. In such a society, pursuit of deeper feelings of happiness arises from coexistence with nature and bonds with other people. The result is a synergy, where each individual sows seeds of happiness in his/her own mind, fosters them through interactions with other people and the environment, and thus both individuals and the entire community bloom like a flower bed, full of vitality.

The following four sub-themes will be used to expand and realize the theme:

1) Co-adaptation

The sub-theme of co-adaptation will explore the development of sustainable, safe, and attractive urban areas through “Green infrastructure” which shall use diverse functions of the natural environment and complement grey infrastructure. It will emphasize using the wisdom of coexistence with nature, regeneration and recycling.

2) Co-existence

The sub-theme of co-existence will explore a Green Community in which people share with and support each other. By taking part in activities related to greenery and agriculture, people will realize that it is important for individuals to participate in the improvement of social and living infrastructures. It will emphasize learning from agrarian culture, which is appreciative of nature and makes use of it in daily life.

3) Co-creation

The sub-theme of Co-creation will explore the creation and development of new value-creating industries ahead of their time, through the introduction of high-value-added floriculture and agriculture, new technologies and new varieties of flowers etc. It will also be welcomed to demonstrate how to expand the life sciences' industry through cross-industrial cooperation of, for example, medical sciences, sports and arts.

4) Co-operation

The sub-theme of Co-operation will explore the development of a society that respects multicultural coexistence, friendship, peace, and diversity. It will emphasize cooperation among diverse actors, including domestic and foreign companies, educational and research institutions, citizens, and international networks. It will be expected to encourage the accumulation of the wisdom and technology that could lead to solutions to global issues, and the sharing thereof among people worldwide.

The definition of the theme of the Expo, as well as the details of its development will be specified in Special Regulation No. 1 as stipulated in Article 34 herein.

Article 2 - The Site
