As the host country of the 2021 Tokyo N4G Summit, the Government of Japan is contributing to the successful N4G Paris Summit. Taking this opportunity presented by the N4G Paris Summit, the Government of Japan will host a side event.

The main objective of this event is to involve a wide range of stakeholders as well as explore and discuss various approaches and opportunities for nutrition improvement. Representatives from the public, academia and civil societies are expected to speak at the event. We aim to promote collaborative approaches that leverage the strengths of each sector and create effective strategies for long-term improvements in nutritional status and well-being for individuals and society as a whole.
